Dirty Secrets of The Pickup Artist

Why You Must Change Your Game

Yes, dating is a game, if you didn't already know. It's a game that most men don't know how to play. But, that's okay, because no one ever told us what the rules are.

And, that's where this manual comes in...

You've heard it before... insanity is doing the same thing over and over but expecting different results. Change just isn't possible if you continue doing what you've always done.

If your current pickup/dating strategy is not working, it's time to change your game.

More importantly, it's time to realize something very important... that doing something dramatically different, something that may seem crazy to you, is the answer!

Why the heck am I telling you this?

Because, the techniques and strategies I will share with you in this report will seem crazy to you. You may even think to yourself, "There's no way that stuff is going to work!"

When that happens, I want you to ask yourself this question... "Is what you're doing now - or have been doing so far - producing the results you want?"

Then, I want you to remind yourself that I warned you about this. I warned you that some of this stuff may seem crazy and "impossible" to work. And, that in order to get the kind of results you want, you will have to do something dramatically different from what you've ever done.

And, lastly, I want you to put your trust in me. Have a little faith, okay? I'm on your side. I want you to have amazing success with women.

And realize that, when the front door doesn't work, sometimes you have to try the back door, the window, or even the chimney.

This is not the stuff that you "normally" do. It's not what you're "used to" doing. But that's okay. Because what we normally do, what we are "conditioned" to do with women does not work. I think you've already figured that part out on your own.

Listen, if 95% of the guys are doing things one way and getting lousy results, doesn't it make sense to do things differently? Doesn't it make sense to do what the other 5% of the successful guys are doing?

So, it's time to change your game!

Make a commitment to yourself to try these techniques and strategies out in the real world, okay? Even if you may not believe yet that they will work. (Think of the first time you saw someone floating on water, or the first time you saw someone balancing a metal frame on two skinny wheels i.e. a bike. It seemed impossible at first, right? And then you tried it, you practiced a little and you were able to do what seemed impossible just a few days ago.)

I know for a fact that this stuff works, and it works extremely well. So, just try it, okay? And, I promise you, you will be amazed at the results you get. :-)

"Dirty Secrets...?"

In my last report, "Seduction Secrets for Men," I revealed the entire seduction process from start to finish: how to prepare yourself (mentally and verbally,) where to go to find women, how to approach them, what to say and do to get them to chase you, and how to create a sexual attraction in them. I also revealed all the psychological pieces involved (on both sides,) and I even showed you how to create unstoppable confidence in yourself.

This report is a bit different. I will still go over the overall process (from a different perspective) and, I'm going to spoon-feed you by giving you "canned" material, i.e. a word-for-word write-up of what to say - and why - so you really don't have to do much work at all.

In other words, I will show you how to cheat, by giving you all the answers to the exam. All you have to do is copy these answers word-for-word and you get to enjoy the results.

That means, you don't have to be creative or funny... Heck, you don't even have to be a "better man" if you don't want to be.

That's why this report has the words "dirty secrets" in the title. In fact, you'll even tell a few 'tall tales' along the way. Not necessarily lies that will hurt anyone...but, some of what you'll say will fall in the category of "fiction."

See, all of this is a lot like trying to get your very first job...

If you've had no job experience, it's much harder to get that first job, because all the employers want someone with experience! And that can create some problems.

How are you supposed to get a job if you have no experience? And, how are you supposed to get experience if no one will give you a job to begin with! It's a tough place to be in, isn't it?

Well, becoming a pickup artist is very much like that. Because...

Women are drawn to men who are confident, in control, who seem to have already dated (and had experience with) other beautiful women. So, a lot of men are in a very tough spot.

In order to get a woman, he has to be confident and have prior experience with beautiful women. But, in order to have confidence and prior experience, he has to get a chance to date one of these women, first!

This is a common problem that lots of men face. And, it's not a fun place to be in.

Recently, a friend of mine approached me because he was having the same problem. He came to me and said, "Bryan, I understand all the techniques and strategies in your report. But, when I get in front of the woman, I'm too nervous to be confident or creative or funny. I can't think of anything interesting to say that will engage her. What the heck do I do?"

So, I decided to introduce him to the "fake it till you make it" method. I told him exactly what to say, and when to say it, so that he would have the confidence to walk up to women and start a conversation. This, in turn, got the women engaged. And, the more they responded favorably to him, the more comfortable and confident he became with the experience.

That's what this special report is about. It's about revealing the dirty secrets of "faking it till you make it" by using someone else's word-for-word phrasing and language so women will think that you are the type of man she's looking for...someone who's confident, secure, and is not intimidated by beautiful women because he's dated enough already.

Now... in order to pull that off...in order for you to succeed with what you say, you have to understand why you're saying it...which means, you have to know when to say it.

Why is this important? Because every situation that you walk into will be slightly different. The women you approach will vary as well. That means, you'll have to know when and why to say the stuff that you've memorized. Simply memorizing this stuff will not do you much good.

Timing is very important in this game. In fact, it's more important as what you're saying, because the right words at the wrong time will be meaningless. It will lose it's effectiveness and power.

So, while I will give you all the word-for-word languaging to use, that won't be enough. There's still some amount of "doing" involved. Unfortunately, I can't be there in person to do it all for you. But, I can tell you what needs to be done so that you can do it yourself.

Let's quickly go over what this process entails...

Overview Of The Process

Before we go over each piece of the process in detail, let's quickly look at the entire picture so that you can see how everything fits together. You'll also be able to follow along better as we go through each piece of the puzzle, if you already know what the entire picture looks like. (It's like getting a peek at the jigsaw puzzle picture before attempting to figure out which piece goes where.)

Here are the pieces that make up the entire process:

1. Preparation: This is obviously the first piece. Without this, nothing else will work. This is the stuff you will need to do before you leave your home. This entire report is actually part of the "preparation" step. You are learning what to do before you ever make that first contact with a woman. You're putting the time in to make sure that you'll have a much better chance of winning in this game.

2. Assessment: This is the first thing you need to do once you arrive at the location where you plan on meeting women. This piece is very important because it dictates how you will make your approach. Example: The approach and tools you choose to use will be different if you're at a night club versus at the mall or out on the street.

3. Approach: This is where you make first contact. It covers: how to (and how not to) walk in, which target to pick and why, what words/phrases to open with, etc.

4. Attraction: Immediately after the 'Approach,' you'll need to start creating the initial sparks of attraction so that she will be drawn toward you. The mistake most guys make is, they try to get the woman to like them first. Trying to be nice and friendly right away is a road to failure. That may sound crazy, but it's true. (Most guys, especially the "nice" ones always make the mistake of being friendly. You won't make that same mistake)

5. Screen/Qualify: As the name implies, this is where you get her to prove to you why you should like her. Most guys will never know how this feels. This step is very important because it relays a lot of messages to the woman about why you're the kind of guy she wants to attract. She realizes that she has to work a little to get you - and she likes doing that! (I'll explain why.)

6. Comfort/Connection: This is where she realizes that she enjoys your company, she wants to spend time with you and get to know you better. Only after you have created 'attraction' should you start to create 'comfort.' If you start with comfort first, the woman will see you as a "friend," someone she loves to talk to, but does not like "in that way." Sounds familiar?

However, attraction alone will not lead to sex and a future relationship. Most women have to feel comfortable and connected to you before they will get physical. That's what this step will do.

7 Arousal: Once you have created attraction, got her to qualify herself, and created comfort, you can now create sexual arousal in her, both physically and emotionally. At this point, she would start thinking about sex, and about having sex with you.

8. Disarm: Ooops... hang on a minute. Just because she's turned on doesn't guarantee that it will lead to sex. Most women have socially-conditioned or habitual rules and hangups about having, especially on the same day that she met you. They may want to have sex with you, but these pre-programmed rules and hangups will usually get in the way of her enjoying what's to come.

No problem. There are ways to deal with this and disarm her, and to make her feel good about wanting to have sex with you.

9. Sex: Uh... right. This is where you have sex. Although, keep in mind that you may still encounter a few speed bumps along the way. We'll discuss what they are and how to get through them smoothly.

10. Closure: This one, while easy to do, is a crucial step...especially if you want to see her again. It's an easy one to solve.

Okay... those are the major steps to going from initial contact to the bedroom, and beyond.

Now, let's go over each one in detail, including the language that you'll be using.
